COMPLAINT

Plaintiffs Katie Wood (“Ms. Wood”), Jane Doe,^{*} and AV Schwandes (“Mx. Schwandes”) file this complaint against Defendants Florida Department of Education; State Board of Education; Monesia Brown, Esther Byrd, Grazie Christie, Kelly Garcia, Benjamin Gibson, MaryLynn Magar, and Ryan Petty, in their official capacities as members of Defendant State Board of Education; Commissioner of Education; Education Practices Commission; and Aadil Ameerally, Ana Armbrister Bland, Jared Barr, Michael Butcher, Yvonne Caldwell, Elayne Colon, Ann Copenhaver, Joseph Goodwin, Benjamin Henry, Timothy Holley, Lisa Innerst, Jeffrey Johnson, Kenneth LaPee, Mason Lewis, Sallie Murphy, Christine Plaza, Kevin Rowe, Charles Shaw, Orenthya Sloan, Marc Snyder, Malcolm Thomas, Jordan Tompkins, and Kathy Wilks, in their official capacities as members of Defendant Education Practices Commission. Ms. Wood also files this complaint against Defendant Hillsborough County School Board. Ms. Doe also files this complaint against Defendant Lee County School Board. Mx. Schwandes also files this complaint against Defendant Florida Virtual School Board of Trustees.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. Plaintiffs are current and former Florida public-school teachers who simply wanted to teach math, science, and their other school subjects of expertise.

^{*} Plaintiff Jane Doe files this complaint using a pseudonym to protect herself from the threat of harassment and violence that her public participation in this case would invite. She intends to forthwith file a motion for leave to use a pseudonym in this case.

But earlier this year, Florida enacted a new law that pushed one plaintiff out of their teaching career and threatens to do the same for the other plaintiffs—and for the other transgender and nonbinary teachers like them across Florida. That new law, subsection 3 of Florida Statutes (“Fla. Stat.”) § 1000.071 (“subsection 3”), provides that “[a]n employee or contractor of a public K-12 educational institution may not provide to a student his or her preferred personal title or pronouns if such preferred personal title or pronouns do not correspond to his or her sex.” Subsection 3 discriminates against transgender and nonbinary public-school employees and contractors on the basis of sex, by prohibiting them from using the titles and pronouns that express who they are. Subsection 3 requires Plaintiffs to shed their titles and pronouns at the schoolhouse gate because they are not the titles and pronouns that Florida prefers for the sex it deems them to be. Florida has the power to revoke the educator certificates of teachers who violate subsection 3, and school boards are able to dismiss violators.

2. Subsection 3 violates the Constitution and laws of the United States. It unlawfully discriminates against Plaintiffs on the basis of sex in violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 because whether Plaintiffs may provide to students a particular title or pronoun depends entirely on Plaintiffs’ sex, and Florida has only an invidious basis—not an exceedingly persuasive or even a rational one—for discriminating in this harmful way. It also unconstitutionally restrains Plaintiffs’ speech in violation of the Free Speech Clause of the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution because it prohibits Plaintiffs from using the titles and pronouns that express who they are, the same way that their colleagues do.

3. Through subsection 3, Florida has stigmatized Plaintiffs, threatened their psychological wellbeing, upended the respect that is owed to them as educators and that is necessary for a safe workplace and functioning classroom, and put their professions and families’ wellbeing on the line. Florida’s statute must give way to the Constitution and laws of the United States and must not be enforced.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

A. HB 1069 (2023)

20. In May 2023, the Florida Legislature enacted, and Governor Ron DeSantis signed, House Bill (“HB”) 1069, Fla. Laws ch. 2023-105. It took effect on July 1, 2023. This case challenges only subsection 3 of section 2 of HB 1069, but the bill’s range of changes related to lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, and nonbinary (“LGBTQ+”) people and content in schools have at least some relevance in this case.

21. Section 1 of HB 1069 amends § 1000.21 of the Early Learning–20 Education Code to define “sex” to “mean[] the classification of a person as either female or male based on the organization of the body of such person for a specific reproductive role, as indicated by the person’s sex chromosomes, naturally occurring sex hormones, and internal and external genitalia present at birth.” Fla. Stat. § 1000.21(9). This definition of sex is sometimes called “biological sex” by some or “sex assigned at birth” by others, including Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs assume for purposes of this case that this definition of sex is consistent with the meaning of sex under the federal constitutional provisions and statutes from which their claims arise.

22. Neither HB 1069, nor the Early Learning–20 Education Code, nor any other statute defines “female” or “male” as used in HB 1069.

23. Section 2 of HB 1069 creates § 1000.071 of the Early Learning–20 Education Code, which reads:

1000.071 Personal titles and pronouns.—

(1) It shall be the policy of every public K-12 educational institution that is provided or authorized by the Constitution and laws of Florida that a person’s sex is an immutable biological trait and that it is false to ascribe to a person a pronoun that does not correspond to such person’s sex. This section does not apply to individuals born with a genetically or biochemically verifiable disorder of sex development, including, but not limited to, 46, XX disorder of sex development; 46, XY disorder of sex development; sex chromosome disorder of sex development; XX or XY sex reversal; and ovotesticular disorder.

(2) An employee, contractor, or student of a public K-12 educational institution may not be required, as a condition of employment or enrollment or participation in any program, to refer to another person using that person's preferred personal title or pronouns if such personal title or pronouns do not correspond to that person's sex.

(3) An employee or contractor of a public K-12 educational institution may not provide to a student his or her preferred personal title or pronouns if such preferred personal title or pronouns do not correspond to his or her sex.

(4) A student may not be asked by an employee or contractor of a public K-12 educational institution to provide his or her preferred personal title or pronouns or be penalized or subjected to adverse or discriminatory treatment for not providing his or her preferred personal title or pronouns.

(5) The State Board of Education may adopt rules to administer this section.

24. Florida law does not define or set forth which titles and pronouns “correspond to” which sex; instead, § 1000.071 leaves those enforcing it to rely on stereotypes about which titles and pronouns should be used by people whose sex is deemed female under the statute and which should be used by people whose sex is deemed male under the statute. Therefore, under § 1000.071, titles like Mrs., Ms., and Miss and pronouns like she and her “correspond to” people whose sex is deemed female; titles like Mr. and pronouns like he and him “correspond to” people whose sex is deemed male; and titles like Mx. (pronounced mix or mux) and pronouns like they and them, when used to refer to a single person, “correspond to” no one.

25. Under subsection 3, an employee can “provide to a student [the employee's] title or pronouns" in various ways, such as by saying them to students, by saying them to someone within earshot of students, or by writing or displaying them on things that are given to or seen by students, like syllabi, classroom boards, and emails.

26. Based on its plain text, subsection 3's reach is not limited to the workplace or work hours; it applies wherever, whenever, and however an employee interacts with students.

27. Under subsection 3, whether an employee may "provide to" students the title Ms. and she/her pronouns depends entirely on whether the employee's sex is deemed male or female: if the employee's sex is deemed female, then the employee may "provide" them to students, but if the employee's sex is deemed male, then the employee may not.

28. Under subsection 3, whether an employee may "provide to" students the title Mr. and he/him pronouns depends entirely on whether the employee's sex is deemed male or female: if the employee's sex is deemed male, then the employee may "provide" them to students, but if the employee's sex is deemed female, then the employee may not.

B. Subsection 3's Purposeful Invidious Discrimination

29. Sponsors of HB 1069, Governor DeSantis, and his administration justified HB 1069 in vague language about "protect[ing] children" from “indoctrination” and “woke gender ideology,” but no one explained how subsection 3 advances those goals.

30. Subsection 3’s drafters ignored Supreme Court case law that clearly establishes its unlawfulness. According to Representative Stan McClain, who sponsored HB 1069, its drafters did not consult Bostock v. Clayton County, 140 S. Ct. 1731 (2020). That case held that an employer who intentionally treats a person worse because of sex—such as by firing a transgender woman (a person whose sex assigned at birth is male but whose gender identity is female) for actions or attributes it would tolerate in a cisgender woman (a person whose sex assigned at birth is female and whose gender identity is female)—discriminates against that person in violation of Title VII.

31. Subsection 3 is just one of a number of laws that Florida has recently enacted at least in part because of, not merely in spite of, the adverse effects they would have—both individually and in the aggregate—on LGBTQ+ people, especially transgender and nonbinary people, in various aspects of life. For example, Governor DeSantis signed HB 1069 in a bill package with Senate Bill (“SB”) 254 (2023), Fla. Laws ch. 2023-90, which restricts their access to health care, and SB 1438 (2023), Fla. Laws ch. 2023-94, which seeks to censor performances by and for LGBTQ+ people. HB 1069 itself also expands the ban in HB 1557 (2022), Fla. Laws ch. 2022-022, on undefined “classroom instruction” on sexual orientation or gender identity and requires schools to remove material, including books, objected to by any parent or county resident, which has resulted in the removal of books that merely mention LGBTQ+ people.

32. Florida flaunted its animus toward LGBTQ+ people when enacting these laws. For example, Governor DeSantis signed SB 1028 (2021), Fla. Laws ch. 2021-35, which bans transgender women and girls from women and girls' athletic teams, on June 1, 2021, the first day of Pride Month for LGBTQ+ people that year. Governor DeSantis, his press secretary at the time, and Representative Randy Fine, who co-sponsored HB 1069 (2023) and HB 1557 (2022), Fla. Laws ch. 2022-022, invidiously described teachers who provide undefined "classroom instruction" on sexual orientation and gender identity as attempting to sexualize kids or as groomers, referring to someone who grooms a minor for exploitation and especially for non-consensual sexual activity. During committee debate about HB 1521 (2023), Fla. Laws ch. 2023-106, another bill regulating transgender and nonbinary people's conduct, Representative Webster Barnaby, who voted for it, called transgender people "mutants from another planet" and Satan's "demons and imps" "pretend[ing] that [they] are part of this world."

33. Through all these laws, Florida intentionally sends the state-sanctioned, invidious, and false message that transgender and nonbinary people and their identities are inherently dangerous, especially to children. Florida's goal behind these laws is to stigmatize and demonize transgender and nonbinary people and relegate them from public life altogether.

C. Defendants' Implementation and Enforcement of Subsection 3

1. Defendants Florida Department of Education, State Board of Education, Members of Defendant State Board of Education, Commissioner of Education, Education Practices Commission, and Members of Education Practices Commission

34. On August 22, 2023, Defendant State Board of Education amended two administrative rules, Rule 6A-5.065 and Rule 6A-10.081, to require teachers to comply with subsection 3 and to subject teachers who violate subsection 3 to suspension or revocation of their educator certificate and to poorer performance evaluations.

35. Rule 6A-5.065 of the Florida Administrative Code sets forth the Florida Educator Accomplished Practices (“the Practices”). The Practices are “Florida’s core standards for effective educators” and “form the foundation for the state’s teacher preparation programs, educator certification requirements[,] and school district instructional personnel appraisal systems.” Fla. Admin. Code r. 6A-5.065(1)(a). “Each of the [P]ractices is clearly defined to promote a common language and statewide understanding of the expectations for the quality of instruction and professional responsibility.” Fla. Admin. Code r. 6A-5.065(2). Defendant State Board of Education amended the Practices to provide that, “[t]o maintain a student-centered learning environment that is safe, organized, equitable, flexible, inclusive, and collaborative, the effective educator consistently ... [a]dapt the learning environment to accommodate the differing needs and diversity of students while ensuring that the learning environment is consistent with s. 1000.071.” Fla. Admin. Code r. 6A-5.065(2)(a)(2)(h).

36. Rule 6A-10.081 of the Florida Administrative Code sets forth the Principles of Professional Conduct for the Education Profession in Florida (“the Principles”). They include ethical and disciplinary principles. Florida educators must comply with the disciplinary principles, and “[v]iolation of any of the[] [disciplinary] principles shall subject the [educator] to revocation or suspension of the individual educator’s certificate, or the other penalties as provided by law.” Fla. Admin. Code r. 6A-10.081(2). Defendant State Board of Education amended the disciplinary principles to provide that educators “[s]hall not violate s 1000.071.” Fla. Admin. Code r. 6A-10.081(2)(a)(14).

37. According to Defendant Commissioner of Education, the proposed rule amendments purportedly were steps toward “truth and sanity” and they would purportedly “empower” teachers by supposedly giving them “the freedom to keep order in the classroom and to keep distractions away and to create a high-quality learning environment.” He did not explain how requiring teachers to comply with subsection 3, and punishing those who violate it, advances any of those stated goals.

38. According to Defendant Florida Department of Education, the purported purposes of the rule amendments were to “[e]nsure[] the health, safety, and welfare of students,” to “[p]rotect the fundamental rights of parents,” to “[r]equire[] standards-based instruction,” and to “[p]rovide[] clarity for educators on what is age-appropriate and developmentally appropriate in accordance with state standards.” Defendant Florida Department of Education did not explain how requiring teachers to comply with subsection 3, and punishing those who violate it, advances any of those stated goals.

39. Defendant Florida Department of Education must investigate potential violations of subsection 3 by teachers, see Fla. Stat. § 1012.796(1)(a), and advise Defendant Commissioner of Education of its findings, Fla. Stat. § 1012.796(3). Defendant Florida Department of Education’s Office of Professional Practice Services conducts such investigations.

40. Defendant Florida Department of Education can learn about potential violations of subsection 3 in various ways. For example, School Board Defendants must file in writing with Defendant Florida Department of Education all complaints that a teacher has violated subsection 3 within 30 days after the date on which subject matter of the complaint comes to its attention, regardless of whether the subject of the complaint is still an employee of the School Board Defendant. See Fla. Stat. § 1012.796(1)(d)(1). If the School Board Defendant’s superintendent has knowledge of a legally sufficient complaint and does not report the complaint, the superintendent is subject to withholding of salary for up to one year. Fla. Stat. § 1012.796(1)(d)(4).

41. Defendant Commissioner of Education determines whether there is probable cause of a violation of subsection 3. See Fla. Stat. § 1012.796(3). If there is probable cause, Defendant Commissioner of Education must file and prosecute a complaint against the teacher. Fla. Stat. § 1012.796(6). Defendant Florida Department of Education's Office of Professional Practice Services pursues such disciplinary actions.

42. Defendants Florida Department of Education and Commissioner of Education have opened investigations into teachers who violate § 1000.071, and they continue to do so. They have also opened investigations into teachers who violate other provisions of HB 1069, such as a teacher who showed her students a Disney movie that features a gay character.

43. If there are disputed issues of material fact, an administrative law judge, assigned by the Division of Administrative Hearings of the Department of Management Services, must hear the complaint and make recommendations to the appropriate panel of Defendant Education Practices Commission. Fla. Stat. § 1012.796(6).

44. A case concerning a complaint against a teacher must be reviewed, and a final order entered, by a panel composed of five members of Defendant Education Practices Commission, at least one of whom must be a parent or a sworn law enforcement officer and at least three of whom must be teachers. Fla. Stat. § 1012.796(8)(a). The panel must conduct a formal review of the administrative law judge's recommendations, if any, and other pertinent information and issue a final order. Fla. Stat. § 1012.796(6).

45. Defendant Education Practices Commission must either dismiss the complaint or impose penalties on a teacher for violating subsection 3, including denying the teacher's application for a certificate, revoking or suspending the teacher's certificate, imposing an administrative fine up to $2,000 for each offense, placing the teacher on probation for which the teacher must pay the costs, restricting the authorized scope of the teacher's practice, reprimanding the teacher in writing in the teacher's file, and barring the teacher, if the teacher's certificate has expired, from applying for a new certificate for up to ten years or permanently. See Fla. Stat. § 1012.796(7).

46. Defendant Florida Department of Education must maintain a disqualification list that includes the identity of each person who has been permanently denied an educator certificate or whose educator certificate has been permanently revoked and has been placed on the list as directed by Defendant Education Practices Commission. Fla. Stat. § 1001.10(4)(b). Defendant Florida Department of Education maintains that list publicly online.

47. Defendant State Board of Education must oversee the performance of School Board Defendants' enforcement of subsection 3 and enforce School Board Defendants' compliance with subsection 3. See Fla. Stat. §§ 1001.03(8), 1008.32.

48. Defendant Commissioner of Education has the power to investigate allegations of School Board Defendants' noncompliance with subsection 3 and determine probable cause. See Fla. Stat. § 1008.32(2)(a). Defendant Commissioner of Education must report determinations of probable cause to Defendant State Board of Education. See id.

49. If a School Board Defendant is unwilling or unable to comply with subsection 3, Defendant State Board of Education has the power to report that to the Legislature, withhold funds, declare the School Board Defendant ineligible for competitive grants, and require periodic reporting. See Fla. Stat. § 1008.32(4).

50. Defendant State Board of Education has a history of investigating and punishing district school boards that violate Defendant State Board of Education's rules to coerce their compliance, including those that imposed mask mandates.

51. Defendants Florida Department of Education and Commissioner of Education even filed and prosecuted, before Defendant Education Practices Commission, a complaint against Leon County School District's superintendent, Rocky Hanna, for advising teachers to continue teaching as they have always done, after HB 1557, which bans undefined "classroom instruction" on sexual orientation and gender identity, was enacted. Defendant Commissioner of Education and Superintendent Hanna reached, and Defendant Education Practices Commission accepted, a settlement agreement by which, among other things, he would be placed on probation for two years, pay $300 to cover the costs of probation, take college courses on education ethics and educational leadership for which he bears the cost, pay a $1,000 fine, violate no law, and comply with the Principles. Defendant Education Practices Commission also reprimanded him in writing.

2. School Board Defendants

Plaintiffs Katie Wood and Jane Doe allege the following paragraphs 52–58 against Defendants Florida Department of Education, State Board of Education, Education Practices Commission, Commissioner of Education, Members of Defendant State Board of Education, and Members of Defendant Education Practices Commission; Ms. Wood also alleges them against Defendant Hillsborough County School Board; and Ms. Doe also alleges them against Defendant Lee County School Board:

52. Any person employed as a teacher in any district school system, including by School Board Defendants, must be properly certified by Defendant Florida Department of Education, see Fla. Stat. § 1012.55(b), except under narrow circumstances, see Fla. Stat. § 1012.55(c).

53. School Board Defendants have the power and duty to suspend or dismiss a teacher whose certificate is revoked or suspended by Defendant Education Practices Commission.

54. School Board Defendants have the power to suspend or dismiss a teacher for violating subsection 3.

55. School Board Defendants have the power to suspend or dismiss a teacher for just cause, such as misconduct in office, gross insubordination, and a certain number and frequency of performance evaluations of “needs improvement” or “unsatisfactory” as provided by state law. Fla. Stat. § 1012.33(1)(a).

56. Misconduct in office includes “[a] violation of the Principles,” including subsection 3, “[a] violation of the adopted school board rules,” “[b]ehavior that disrupts the student’s learning environment,” and “[b]ehavior that reduces the teacher’s ability or ... colleagues’ ability to effectively perform duties.” Fla. Admin. Code r. 6A-5.056(2).

57. Gross insubordination “means the intentional refusal to obey a direct order, reasonable in nature, and given by and with proper authority; misfeasance, or malfeasance as to involve failure in the performance of the required duties.” Fla. Admin. Code r. 6A-5.056(4).

58. At least one-third of a teacher’s performance evaluation must be based upon instructional practice, which must include indicators based upon each of the Practices, including subsection 3. Fla. Stat. § 1012.34(3)(a)(2).

a. Defendant Hillsborough County School Board

Plaintiff Katie Wood alleges the following paragraphs 59–61 against

Defendants Florida Department of Education, State Board of Education, Education Practices Commission, Commissioner of Education, Members of Defendant State Board of Education, Members of Defendant Education Practices Commission, and Hillsborough County School Board:

59. All complaints that a teacher violated subsection 3 must be reported to Defendant Hillsborough County School Board's Office of Professional Standards, who, in turn, will report such complaints to Defendant Florida Department of Education within 30 days after the date on which the subject matter of the complaint comes to the attention of Defendant Hillsborough County School Board or the office of the superintendent. See Hillsborough Cnty. Sch. Bd. Pol'y 3139.

60. It is the responsibility of all employees of Defendant Hillsborough County School Board to promptly report to the superintendent any complaint against a teacher that comes to the employee's attention and that includes grounds for the revocation or suspension of a teaching certificate. Hillsborough Cnty. Sch. Bd. Pol'y 3139.

61. The willful failure by an employee of Defendant Hillsborough County School Board to promptly report a complaint constitutes cause for discipline of the employee as provided by Florida statutes, the Hillsborough County Teacher Tenure Act, and Defendant Hillsborough County School Board policy. Hillsborough Cnty. Sch. Bd. Pol'y 3139.

b. Defendant Lee County School Board

Plaintiff Jane Doe alleges the following paragraphs 62–66 against Defendants Florida Department of Education, State Board of Education, Education Practices Commission, Commissioner of Education, Members of Defendant State Board of Education, Members of Defendant Education Practices Commission, and Lee County School Board:

62. The Principles, including subsection 3, constitute Defendant Lee County School Board’s standards of ethical conduct, to which all instructional staff members must adhere. Lee Cnty. Sch. Bd. Pol’y 3210.

63. A teacher who willfully violates Defendant Lee County School Board’s policies, including subsection 3, is guilty of gross insubordination and is subject to dismissal or such other lesser penalty as Defendant Lee County School Board may prescribe. Lee Cnty. Sch. Bd. Pol’y 3120.

64. All complaints that a teacher violated subsection 3 must be reported to Defendant Florida Department of Education within 30 days after the date on which the subject matter of the complaint comes to the attention of Defendant Lee County School Board or the office of the superintendent. See Lee Cnty. Sch. Bd. Pol’y 3139.

D. Gender Identity and the Harms of Misgendering

69. Subsection 3 harms transgender and nonbinary teachers by prohibiting them from using titles and pronouns that express their gender identity.

70. Gender identity is an innate, internal sense of one's sex. Everyone has a gender identity. Cisgender people's gender identity is consistent with their sex assigned at birth, but transgender people have a gender identity that differs from their sex assigned at birth.

71. Nonbinary is an adjective used by people who experience their gender identity or gender expression as falling outside the binary gender categories of man and woman; nonbinary people may identify as being both a man and a woman, somewhere in between, or as falling completely outside these categories. Many nonbinary people also call themselves transgender and consider themselves part of the transgender community.

72. Many transgender people adopt a new name, pronouns, hairstyle, and clothing that express their gender identity, and many express their gender identity in all aspects of their life, including at work. Following those steps, many transgender people obtain a court order legally changing their name and, where possible, changing the sex listed on their birth certificate and other identity documents.

73. Many transgender women go by titles like Mrs., Ms., and Miss and pronouns like she and her. Many transgender men (people whose sex assigned at birth is female but whose gender identity is male) go by titles like Mr. and pronouns like he and him. Many nonbinary people go by non-gendered titles like Mx. and non-gendered pronouns like they and them.

74. Misgendering a person—for example, by referring to a transgender woman by titles like Mr. and pronouns like he and him, by referring to a transgender man by titles like Ms. and pronouns like she and her, or by referring to a nonbinary person by any of those gendered titles or pronouns—can cause that person psychological distress and feelings of stigma. So can prohibiting a person from going by titles and pronouns that express the person’s gender identity.

E. Subsection 3’s Effects on Plaintiffs

1. Effects on Ms. Wood

Plaintiff Katie Wood alleges the following paragraphs 75–92 against Defendants Florida Department of Education, State Board of Education, Education Practices Commission, Commissioner of Education, Members of Defendant State Board of Education, Members of Defendant Education Practices Commission, and Hillsborough County School Board:

75. Ms. Wood is a transgender woman.

76. Ms. Wood socially transitioned as a woman in or around 2020, in college and everywhere else in life. She legally changed her name and has updated her documents to reflect her new name and her female gender. She presents as a woman.

She uses the title Ms. and she/her pronouns.

77. Ms. Wood has been employed as a teacher by Defendant Hillsborough County School Board since the 2021–2022 school year. She teaches math at Lennard High School. She is certified to teach by Defendant Florida Department of Education, which issued her certificate in her legal name, Katie Wood.

78. When Ms. Wood started working at Lennard High School, Defendant Hillsborough County School Board was supportive of her transgender status and female gender identity and expression. It allowed her to go by Ms. Wood and she/her pronouns.

79. Before subsection 3 became law and Defendant Hillsborough County School Board policy, Ms. Wood was permitted to provide to students her Ms. title and she/her pronouns. She would introduce herself as Ms. Wood and write “Ms. Wood” and “she/her” on her syllabi and classroom board.

80. Before subsection 3 became law and Defendant Hillsborough County School Board policy, Ms. Wood was permitted to tell anyone who misgendered her at work, such as by using Mr. or he/him pronouns, that her title is Ms. and that her pronouns are she/her.

81. Under subsection 3 and Defendant Hillsborough County School Board policy, Ms. Wood may no longer provide to students her Ms. title and she/her pronouns because subsection 3 deems her sex to be male. If Ms. Wood’s sex were deemed female, then subsection 3 would not prohibit her from providing her Ms. title and she/her pronouns to students.

82. Since subsection 3 became law and Defendant Hillsborough County School Board policy, Lennard High School's principal and Defendant Hillsborough County School Board advised Ms. Wood that she was no longer allowed to go by Ms. because her sex is deemed male and that she instead could go by Mr., Teacher, or Coach.

83. Going by titles like Mr. and pronouns like he and him would harm Ms. Wood, including emotionally, risk physical harm from others, and disrupt her classroom and ability to do her job. Avoiding titles and pronouns altogether would be impractical, disruptive, and stigmatizing.

84. Ms. Wood opted to go by Teacher. She would not go by Teacher but for subsection 3. She has replaced her name with "Teacher Wood" on her classroom board, introduces herself to students as Teacher Wood, and uses Teacher Wood on all communications with students.

85. Ms. Wood would introduce herself as Ms. Wood and write "Ms. Wood" and "she/her" on her syllabi and classroom board but for subsection 3.

86. Going by Teacher, a non-gendered title that no male or female teachers at her school use and that does not come naturally to her when describing herself, instead of Ms., a title that expresses her female gender identity, has caused Ms.

Wood to feel stigmatized.

87. Going by Teacher has disrupted Ms. Wood's ability to teach and distracted her students.

88. Most students still call her Ms. Wood, while others call her Teacher Wood.

89. The risk that she could lose her teaching job and license for violating subsection 3 and Defendant Hillsborough County School Board policy has caused Ms. Wood great anxiety and distracts her during work.

90. Under subsection 3 and Defendant Hillsborough County School Board policy, Ms. Wood may not tell anyone who misgenders her at work, such as by using Mr. or he/him pronouns, that her title is Ms. and that her pronouns are she/her because subsection 3 deems her sex to be male.

91. Ms. Wood may not even tell a student who calls her Mr. or refers to her by he/him pronouns that her title under subsection 3 is Teacher.

92. Ms. Wood filed a charge of employment discrimination with the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) against Defendants Florida Department of Education, Education Practices Commission, and Hillsborough County School Board on December 8, 2023, and against Defendant State Board of Education on December 12, 2023. She intends to amend this complaint after the EEOC sends her a notice of her right to sue.

2. Effects on Ms. Doe

Plaintiff Jane Doe alleges the following paragraphs 93–102 against Defendants Florida Department of Education, State Board of Education, Education Practices Commission, Commissioner of Education, Members of Defendant State Board of Education, Members of Defendant Education Practices Commission, and Lee County School Board:

93. Ms. Doe is a transgender woman.

94. Ms. Doe socially transitioned as a woman after Thanksgiving 2021, at work and everywhere else in life. She legally changed her name and has updated her documents (except for her birth certificate because the law of her state of birth prohibits it) to reflect her new name and female gender. She presents as a woman. She uses the title Ms. and she/her pronouns.

95. Ms. Doe has been employed as a teacher by Defendant Lee County School Board since the 2017–2018 school year. She is certified to teach by Defendant Florida Department of Education.

96. When Ms. Doe socially transitioned at work, Defendant Lee County School Board was supportive of her transgender status and female gender identity and expression. It updated its records to reflect her new name and female gender. It allowed her to go by Ms. Doe and she/her pronouns.

97. Before subsection 3 became law and Defendant Lee County School Board policy, Ms. Doe was permitted to provide to students her Ms. title and she/her pronouns. She would introduce herself as Ms. Doe and write “Ms. Doe” and “she/her” on her syllabi and classroom board.

98. Before subsection 3 became law and Defendant Lee County School Board policy, Ms. Doe could tell anyone who misgendered her at work, such as by using Mr. or he/him pronouns, that her title is Ms. and that her pronouns are she/her.

99. Under subsection 3 and Defendant Lee County School Board policy, Ms. Doe may no longer provide to students her Ms. title and she/her pronouns because subsection 3 deems her sex to be male. If Ms. Doe’s sex were deemed female, then subsection 3 would not prohibit her from providing her Ms. title and she/her pronouns to students.

100. Going by titles like Mr. and pronouns like he and him would harm Ms. Doe, including emotionally, risk physical harm from others, and disrupt her classroom and her ability to do her job. Avoiding titles and pronouns altogether would be impractical and disruptive.

101. Under subsection 3 and Defendant Lee County School Board policy, Ms. Doe may not tell anyone who misgenders her at work, such as by using Mr. or he/him pronouns, that her title is Ms. and that her pronouns are she/her because subsection 3 deems her sex to be male.

102. Ms. Doe filed a charge of employment discrimination with the EEOC against Defendants Florida Department of Education, State Board of Education, Education Practices Commission, and Lee County School Board on December 8, 2023. She intends to amend this complaint after the EEOC sends her a notice of her right to sue.

3. Effects on Mx. Schwandes

Plaintiff AV Schwandes alleges the following paragraphs 103–110 against Defendants Florida Department of Education, State Board of Education, Education Practices Commission, Commissioner of Education, Members of Defendant State Board of Education, Members of Defendant Education Practices Commission, and Florida Virtual School Board of Trustees:

103. Mx. Schwandes is nonbinary; their sex assigned at birth was female, but their gender identity is neither male nor female. They use the title Mx. (pronouncing it mux) and they/them pronouns.

104. Mx. Schwandes was employed as a teacher by Defendant Florida Virtual School Board of Trustees from July 19, 2021, until their termination on October 24, 2023. They taught physical science and then physics. They are certified to teach by Defendant Florida Department of Education.

105. Starting around June or July 2023, Mx. Schwandes started to use Mx. and they/them pronouns at work.

106. At first, Mx. Schwandes's supervisor was okay with their use of Mx.,

but on August 28, 2023, he directed them to stop using Mx. and to instead use a title like Ms. or Mrs. Mx. Schwandes refused to comply.

107. On September 15, 2023, Defendant Florida Virtual School Board of Trustees suspended Mx. Schwandes for violating subsection 3 and Defendant Florida Virtual School Board of Trustees policy, directed them to comply with subsection 3 by using Ms., Mrs., or Miss instead of Mx., and threatened to terminate their employment for noncompliance. Mx. Schwandes again refused to comply.

108. Defendant Florida Virtual School Board of Trustees did not permit Mx. Schwandes to use non-gendered titles like Professor, Doctor, or Teacher.

109. On October 24, 2023, Defendant Florida Virtual School Board of Trustees terminated Mx. Schwandes's employment for violating subsection 3 and Defendant Florida Virtual School Board of Trustees policy.

110. Mx. Schwandes filed a charge of employment discrimination against Defendant Florida Virtual School Board of Trustees with the Florida Commission on Human Relations on September 26, 2023, and with the EEOC on November 8, 2023. Mx. Schwandes submitted a charge of employment discrimination against Defendants Florida Department of Education, State Board of Education, and Education Practices Commission with the EEOC on December 12, 2023. They intend to amend this complaint after the EEOC sends them a notice of their right to sue.

By All Plaintiffs Against Defendants Commissioner of Education, Members of Defendant State Board of Education, and Members of Defendant Education Practices Commission

194. All Plaintiffs separately bring this claim against Defendants Commissioner of Education, Members of Defendant State Board of Education, and Members of Defendant Education Practices Commission. Plaintiff Katie Wood realleges paragraphs 4, 7–12, 14–61, and 69–92 against them. When answering Ms. Wood’s claim against them in this count, each of those Defendants should read “Plaintiff” to refer only to Ms. Wood. Plaintiff Jane Doe realleges paragraphs 5, 7–12, 14–58, 62–

66, 69–74, and 93–102 against them. When answering Ms. Doe’s claim against them in this count, each of those Defendants should read “Plaintiff” to refer only to Ms. Doe. 195. Subsection 3 violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

196. Subsection 3 classifies on the basis of sex within the meaning of the Equal Protection Clause.

197. Subsection 3 is subject to intermediate scrutiny under the Equal Protection Clause.

198. Subsection 3 fails intermediate scrutiny because Defendant cannot demonstrate an exceedingly persuasive justification—one that is genuine, not hypothesized, not invented post hoc in response to litigation, and that does not rely on overbroad generalizations about the different talents, capacities, or preferences of males and females—for its discrimination because of sex. Defendant cannot show that subsection 3 serves an important governmental objective because there is none, and it cannot show that its discriminatory means are substantially related to the achievement of that objective because they cannot be.

199. Even if subsection 3 is instead subject to rational-basis review, it fails rational-basis review because its discriminatory classification does not bear a rational relation to any legitimate end.

200. Defendant is a person within the meaning of 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

201. By enforcing or threatening to enforce subsection 3, Defendant was and is acting under color of state law within the meaning of 42 U.S.C. § 1983.
